TEN REASONS WHY FILING BANKRUPTCY IS NOT A SIGN OF FAILURE

Struggling with debt is frustrating and looking for solutions can be confusing. Bankruptcy is a way to eliminate debt and rebuild one's financial life. Some people think bankruptcy is morally wrong despite being a federal law that allows people the ability to recover from an unforeseen financial calamity.

Bankruptcy is a federal law that has existed for 200 years. Americans have the legal right to get out of debt.

Here are the ten (10) reasons why filing bankruptcy is not a failure:

1. You get a fresh start both financially and mentally.
2. Creditors can no longer harass you with phone calls.
3. You can stop a garnishment of your wages.
4. You can stop a foreclosure and keep your home.
5. You can keep your personal property (furniture, clothing, jewelry, car, etc.)
6. You can rebuild your credit within two years; i.e., a credit score higher than 700.
7. You can keep 100% of your retirement savings.
8. You can qualify for a mortgage within two years under a FHA programs.
9. You can buy a newer car with a low interest rate.
10. Your financial problem is solved and your stress is eliminated.

No one wants to file bankruptcy. Unfortunately, overwhelming debt happens to good people. If you are struggling with debt, then call the experts at Heupel Law for a FREE consultation.
